

NATIONAL HEALTH EQUITY | GRAND ROUNDS

Elena Mendez-Escobar, PhD, MBA

Co-Executive Director, Health Equity Accelerator at Boston Medical Center Health System

Speaker, Creating Accountability Through Data: From Racism and Neglect to Transparency and Repair

Elena Mendez-Escobar, PhD, MBA, co-leads the Health Equity Accelerator and oversees the Grayken Center for Addiction at Boston Medical Center Health System (BMCHS). Her passion is to right inequities and improve healthcare for underserved populations.

Prior to joining BMCHS, she was an Associate Partner at McKinsey where she served clients in the Medicaid space. She co-founded McKinsey's Center for Societal Benefit through Healthcare, focused on underinvested areas of healthcare such as mental health, addiction, or social determinants of health.

Dr. Mendez-Escobar holds a PhD in Theoretical Physics from the University of Edinburgh and an MBA from the MIT Sloan School of Management. She was named 40 under 40 by the Boston Business Journal.